The Great Day Has Arrived

By Daisy F. Bostick

We're off again. Listen to the lions roar and the monkeys squeal. Get on your circus togs and tie yourself up town at one o'clock today to see the grand balloon ascension, which will be immediately followed by the Sir-

—One Englund, riding at the head, will be a thing of beauty in his circus regalia, and Hal Bragg, as an organ-grinder, a joy forever. Hal has secured a real little monkey to solicit pennies in return for his lugubrious caterwaulings. He a cute little animal, a regular vest-pocket edition of a little monkey; so take all that bunch of pennies you've been saving for the milkman.

Following our right noble chief of the parade is the march of the —Mayor William T. Kibbler, Argyll Campbell and John B. Jordan, Geo. Pollak, Harvey E. Russell, Frederick Godwin, Phil Wilson Sr., Emil Pae-sallaigue and George Kegg.

Buffalo Bill, having been finally located, finds he can't be here, so he's picked on Joe Hand as a substitute. It was quite fitting that Mr. Hand should have been handed this honor. Many years ago he carried the mail by pony express from Carson, Nev. to Reno, Cal., and knew much of the wilderness life.

Every kind of vehicle known to man is to be in the parade. There are 57 varieties of them. Two-wheelers, three-wheelers, four-wheelers—every kind of wheeler. Those who are donating wagons and horses are: Sidney Ruthven, Michael Murphy, A. S. Stoney, Luis Tarango, Eugene Rodriguez and Lian Hodges.

Paul Mays, George Kegg and Daniel W. Willard have been doing a new brand of applied art these days. They are applying color to circus wagons. Never were animals so honored. They will glare through gayly painted bars and cavort on rainbow-hued platforms and dance amidst decorations that might well set the art world gasping.

The circus parade might be termed a historical pageant of the City of Carmel. Besides the freaks and acts for so many years credited to this village there will be the old fire department, and the new; the Dutch band of years ago. There will be floats carrying judges, patronesses, snake-charmers, acrobats, baller girls, and a Circassian beauty. Two of the floats are to be dedicated to America and to California. One of our social leaders will drive a float of hand-trained geese. The Gapaies are planning a bold robbery, to leave your valuables at home under the door mat.

If every one who has bought a ticket to the tent show intends to use it, the committee may just as well arrange for a chamber of commerce meeting to provide excitement for the over-flow. Harrison Godwin and Albert Van Houtte are to be ringmasters. There's been one horn every minute since Barm-in, but these two are the greatest now in captivity.

The silver cup, which has been on exhibition at headquarters' window all this week has aroused much interest among the children. The child under fifteen giving the best exhibition of horsemanship will be the proud owner of that cup before night-fall. The judges will be Colonel J. E. Cusack, Lieutenant-Colonel Clarence

Sea Surge

(Written for the Pine Cone)

Surge of the sea and sigh of the pines—
Mysterious flower scents heady as wines
Borne on the winds from sunset caves
Where waves
Flow golden and amber and rose,

Crying
And flying
As daylight is dying.

Surge of the sea and a whisper of breeze—
And lights that waver among the trees—
These

Have been tossed by a master hand
On the sand

Where the foam flowers dance—
Where—
Where—

Sounds a tocsin as clear as a bell

In the surge of the seas

At Carmel.

Lecturer Explains Eclipse Phenomena

On Thursday, August 9, at Arts and Crafts Hall, James Worthington delivered his most interesting and illuminating lecture "Eclipses of the Sun".

Although necessarily a somewhat obscure subject, Mr. Worthington had no difficulty in demonstrating to a large and attentive audience the relative motions of the celestial bodies and how an eclipse occurs.

Some thrilling views of the sun's corona or crown (which is invisible excepting during the brief periods when the moon is interposed between the sun and the earth) as taken by Dr. A. E. Burton on his eclipse expedition to Sumatra, were shown.

The lecturer threw upon the screen numerous clear slides which graphically supplemented an account of the difficulties and hardships faced by himself and his companions in an unsuccessful attempt to capture photographs of the solar eclipse of 1910, on a bleak and wind-swept portion of Tasmanian coast.

The moon's orbit and that of the earth were demonstrated by two rings and in this way Mr. Worthington was able to illustrate the fact that a long interval must elapse before an eclipse is repeated at any particular spot on the earth's surface.

The lecture was most absorbing, and enlivened by many touches of characteristic humor, which were thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

Perhaps as we went out the cool Carmel night air hinted of that far-off Tasmanian shore, but our hearts were filled with the glory of achievement as we stood in the sun-bathed hay-field of Portugal and held our breath as the sun's corona opened like a flower and the next moment had vanished!

Why cannot we enjoy more lectures by our able Carmel scientists?

Building permits aggregating $41,000 were issued to Edward G. Kuster during the week. The contract for the enlargement and removal of the Weaving Studio has been awarded to L. E. Gottfried. Permits have been issued for a shop and studio building at the entrance corner at Ocean avenue and Monte Verde street, and for the Main theatre and Studio building across the rear of the Ocean avenue lots.

Carmel to Have Arts Magazine

Ever since its foundation in 1918, the Seven Arts has been a Carmel institution—something that belonged, something that was an integral part of Carmel and yet an addition to its charm. Always, too, the Seven Arts has worked for the artistic advancement of Carmel, in every way at its command, and the publicity of the business has been along the lines of local art development.

For many years the management of the Seven Arts has planned the publication of a small magazine to be devoted to the work of resident and visiting writers, musicians, dancers, painters, sculptors, architects, people of the theater, and toilers in arts of less ancient lineage. And now, with the definite location of the firm in a building erected wholly for its own use, the management has determined to begin the publication of the Seven Arts Review. The first number is scheduled to appear in January.

The magazine will include both creative and critical work. There will be very brief stories, essays, poems, one-act plays and musical compositions, reproductions of etchings and paintings (particularly those originally in black and white) and photographs of local architecture and sculpture, of our own dancers and players, and settings and scenes in Carmel drama.

Criticisms of all genuine accomplishments in any of the arts by those who live or have lived among us will be a regular feature of the magazine. The books of local authors will be written of as they appear, their work in current periodicals noted. All important productions in the Forest Theater, the Arts and Crafts Theater, and other interior and open-air theaters of the vicinity will be received. Dance performances, the concerts (and publications) of our musicians, the exhibitions of our painters and sculptors will be the subjects of critical articles. The finer accomplishments in architecture, particularly where there is unusual beauty or originality in harmony with the surroundings, will be adequately regarded.

Photography, motion picture, pottery, landscape gardening—in fact all the worth-while endeavors of local artists—will be the concern of the Seven Arts Review.

Art Exhibition to Be a Feature

By John Northern Hilliard

Carmel artists who will exhibit their work at the Monterey Peninsula Industrial and Art Exposition, which will open on Friday, August 31 and close on September 3, include many names famous not only in California, but in the four corners of the world. First and foremost there is William Ritebel, acknowledged one of the three greatest marine painters in the world. He has lived in Carmel and at the Highlands for the last decade, and has made this section of California's coast internationally famous.

Another artist who will exhibit is Paul Mays, a painter of rare charm and originality. He is also a mural decorator of note. Recently he completed the decorations of the beautiful Grauman's theater in Los Angeles. It was the effective Oriental in the recent Forest Theater production, "Kismet."

Our own Jo Moia, sculptor, will be represented, as will be William P. Silva, De Neale Morgan and William O. Watts.

The art exhibition is in the able hands of Armin Hansen, himself a painter of more than local renown. His associates on the jury of selection are Francis McComas and Bruce Nelson. They will not confuse the entries to canvases by Peninsula artists, but will invite the foremost artists of the state to exhibit. Invitations have been extended to Xavier Martinez, Arthur Matthews, Maynard Dixon, Gottrado Piazzoni and Ralph Stack-pols.

Hansen and his associates also plan to have a representative exhibit of the work of the earlier artists of the Peninsula, among them Jules Tavernier, who was a habitue of Simonenu's old bohemian resort in the sunnolent days when Robert Louis Stevenson roamed the forests of the seventeen-mile drive and Carmel. A special will also be made of the works of Charles Dickman and Rollo Peters, whose earlier work is woven in the artistic history of these parts.

Construction has begun on the building to house these exhibits, and a blanket insurance policy to cover the building and contents will be taken out. The art and floral building will be practically combined into one structure, with a patio like entrance separating the exhibits. The structure will have whitewashed walls to give the effect of adobe, and the only outside decoration will be a bas relief by Francis McComas. The surrounding grounds will be decorated with trees, shrubs and flowers.

Serra Celebration Has Been Postponed

Pending the appointment of a bishop for the newly formed diocese of Monterey and Fresno, the proposed celebration of the 139th anniversary of the death of Father Junipero Serra at Carmel Mission, which was to have been held on the 28th of this month on the mission grounds, has been indefinitely postponed.

It is hoped that the appointment of the bishop will be made soon, so that the affair may be held before the rainy season sets in. Hundreds of people in all parts of the state will make the journey here if the weather conditions are favorable.

Governor to Attend Farm Bureau Fair

Watsonville's big Civic Auditorium, with its more than 25,000 square feet of floor space, is a beehive of industry now as workmen under the direction of Secretary-Manager R. J. Pennington are preparing booths for farm centers and industrial and commercial exhibits at the Santa Cruz County Farm Bureau Fair which will open for a week's engagement on September 25. Eighteen farm centers in Santa Cruz and Monterey counties already have signed for space and others will be in line soon.

Governor Richardson will press a little button in his office at Sacramento at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, September 25, and after that there will not be a dull moment until the lights go out at midnight on the following Sunday.

Special days have been announced as follows:

Tuesday, September 25—Opening day. Release of prize balloons at Fair grounds and at Santa Cruz.

Wednesday, September 26—Gilroy, Hollister, San Juan and San Jose day. Special features.

Thursday, September 27—Salinas, Monterey, Gonzales and Soledad day. Premium awards.

Friday, September 28—Santa Cruz day. Special excursions from bay points.

Saturday, September 29—Farm Center day. Grand Farm Bureau Assembly and award of final prizes.

Sunday, September 30—Home Coming day and reception to Governor Richardson by fair directors and city and county officials. Grand finale.

Fighting Insect Pests.

A new method of control of "screw-worms," "wireworms" and sod web worms which attack tobacco and similar crops has been discovered by the tobacco insect laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture. It has been found that these worms are very greatly attracted to nitrobenzine, and by flavoring poison with this chemical a mortality of from 80 to 90 per cent of the larvae in heavily infested fields is produced. These larvae are very important pests of tobacco and a large variety of other crops, and up to this time fall plowing and other indirect methods were the only known ways of combating them.

Women Lead in Fighting Rats.

In a state-wide rat campaign conducted in Virginia early this year, when it was estimated that more than 670,000 rats were destroyed, it was disclosed that women make as effective leaders as men in this work, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. When regarded according to the number of rat-tails turned in for prizes, seven counties led by women and three led by men were the most successful.

Famous Choir on Tour

When the Sistine Chapel Choir from the Vatican comes to America next October for its ten weeks' concert tour of the principal cities of the United States and Canada, it will bring with it the highest model of music and performance, as for centuries it has been noted for the beauty and splendor of its sacred song. The voices for the Sistine Chapel Choir are very carefully selected. The adult members are appointed for life, and after serving for thirty years are pensioned. Boys numbering twenty sopranos and altos are carefully selected from the best families in Italy and educated and trained by Monsignor Rella in a special school situated within the shadow of the Vatican and endowed by Pius X. Included in the choir there are three adult male sopranos, as well as three adult male altos, and amongst the male sopranos is Eugenia Andriselli, who is reported as having the "voice of an angel."

The organization will sing in San Francisco.

The large bronze figures of four of the distinguished priests of Carmel mission, Fathers Junipero Serra, Lazuen, and others, will be placed on the grounds of the mission. The figures are the work of Jo Mora.

GREEN DYE FROM CORN COBS

Science Has Added Another Achievement to Its Record in Use of Raw Material.

Science has found a way of utilizing all corn cobs, short or long, in the manufacture of various chemicals. As the corn cob consists of cellulose, which is valuable for making many products, such as celluloid and paper, it is considered desirable to save the substance of the cob. The furfural, therefore, is taken from the extract which is obtained by boiling the cob in water and the cellulose can thus be kept for other purposes.

This liquid is employed for many purposes in industrial chemistry, and can be so treated that it will yield a bright green dye, which is much liked by women of fashion, says the Detroit News.

Author Turns Picture Expert

W. F. Alder, author of "The Isle of Vanishing Men," and "Men of the Inner Jungle," has been concerned with technical phases of motion picture production—designing producing plants, improving cameras, etc.—ever since he was diverted by the interest of these problems from a projected engineering career.

Later he went into the picture-making end—not as picture-making is done at Hollywood, but as explorers know it.

Securing authentic pictures of the natives of far-off places, their dwellings, tribal customs, etc., has been the main object of several of his many expeditions; and at the present writing Mr. Alder is in New York City co-operating with the producers who are soon to release his Borneo jungle picture, which will probably bear the same name as his book about the inner Borneo natives, "Men of the Inner Jungle."

The Roosevelt award was presented recently to Gen. Leonard Wood, Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn and Miss Louise Lee Schuyler. The medal is a newly created one of the Roosevelt Memorial Association. Three will be awarded annually to those who have performed distinguished public service in three of the eight activities in which Colonel Roosevelt was vitally interested. The medal is one of the most remarkable that has ever been struck on account of its exceptional size, weight and character. It measures 3 1/4 inches in diameter and contains 260 pennyweights of gold. It was designed by the noted American sculptor, James Earl Fraser.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mrs. Byron Newell and daughter motored to San Jose this week. They were away several days.

Miss Marie Vogel of Dallas, Texas, has joined her sister, Mrs. Reichenstein, in the Lisk cottage, for a week's visit.

Mrs. John Scott Noble and Miss Blanche H. Wenner are motoring through Yosemite with their cousin, Mrs. Herbert Keith of Hollywood.

Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Tooker and children from Berkeley, who have been visiting Mrs. Tooker's mother, Mrs. J. L. Fulton, have returned to their home.

Gene Byrnes left his "Reg'lar Fellers" long enough to take a two-week motor trip through the Yosemite with Mrs. Byrnes. They got home a few days ago.

T. L. Edler of the Economy Grocery here has acquired the interest of Edward Ward in that concern, dissolution of copartnership notice now being published.

Dr. John McGee, of the corps of scientists connected with the local Carnegie laboratory, accompanied by his wife went to San Francisco for a brief visit a few days ago.

A day's visitor in Carmel last Monday was Prof. Lash Miller of Toronto University chemical department. He numbers among his friends here several of the Carnegie laboratory contingent.

The Carmel Missionary Society will meet at 8 o'clock next Wednesday in the Presbyterian chapel, Eighth avenue and Dolores street. The subject, "The Child and America's Future," should appeal to all. Addressees will be made by members of the synod now in session at Asilomar. A social hour will follow. All are cordially invited.

Miss Ada Howe Kent and Mrs. W. L. Kilpatrick of Carmel Highlands have returned from the east. They visited in New York, Rochester and Seattle. In the last named city they met Mrs. Kilpatrick's son, who is navigation officer on the flagship Maryland, which recently broke the record on the trip through the Panama canal.

OWES SPEECH TO WIRELESS

Young English Woman, Dumb From Birth, Said to Have Become Normal After Treatment.

A young woman, deaf and dumb from birth, the first patient to undergo treatment by a new wireless invention, articulated several words in the presence of a crowded audience at the Royal Medical college, Epsom, England.

Wireless, having brought hearing to the deaf, is now bringing speech to the dumb.

This latest wonder is made possible by the invention of Mr. J. W. Theobald, a Sunbury garage owner, and a medical friend, Dr. Frank Thompson. The dumb patient puts on ear receivers, and receives a lesson in phonetics with the sounds magnified till they are deafening to normal ears.

Dr. Thompson prophesies that his first patient will soon be able to converse freely. A curious unexpected result has been that her deafness is also tending to disappear.

Presidio of San Francisco.

Dear General Jenkins: Permit me, on behalf of the people of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and through the Chamber of Commerce, to extend to you our hearty congratulations upon your promotion to the rank of Brigadier General in the United States Army.

The people of Carmel will always remember the happy associations they enjoyed with you during the time you were in command at the Monterey Presidio, and desire to wish you every success and good fortune in your future career. They trust that, though you will be absorbed in the affairs of your new office, and of whatever community you may from time to time find yourself associated with, you may still entertain the kind regard you always showed for this district when you were among us. Of their good will you are at all times assured.

The Great Day Has Arrived

Daugherty and Captain J. T. Peirce. Colonel Cusack has been very generous in assisting the committee. He is sending a picked band of twelve musicians, a Roman chariot and several trick riders from the Monterey Presidio.

There will be clowns and horribles and trained seals and some original stunts that probably never will be done again.

You'll have a great time; you can drink lemonade, eat hot dogs and drop peanut shells on people below.

Everything will be strongly atmospheric of a real circus—even the smells, all the fragrant odors of tan-bark, steaming weesies, pungent peanuts, and animals belong to the great army of the unwashed.

Speaking of weesies, Bill Leberman will preside over a gypsy camp-fire and hot dog sandwiches will be dispersed all day. The refreshment committee, Mrs. R. W. Bernard, Mrs. E. B. Washburn, Mrs. H. A. Spoehr, Mrs. J. G. Hooper and Mrs. John McGee, will have sandwiches, ice cream and lemonade booths. The eatables will be served daintily, Mrs. Bernard having prepared painted baskets as containers which may be carried away as souvenirs of a perfect day. The luncheon is to be an all day feature.

There has been much uncertainty as to where the dance was to be held, but has finally been decided by Ray Ramsey to give the affair in Arts and Crafts Hall. Moffet's orchestra has been engaged. One couple, I buck.

The committee attending to the tent and side show construction is made up of R. C. De Yoe, M. J. Murphy, C. O. Gould, Albert Oley, Ray Ramsey, L. H. Hodges and Geo. Kegg. The various contractors have donated the service of their men.

The executive committee consists of W. T. Kibbler, J. B. Jordan, Geo. Kegg, R. C. De Yoe, Dr. A. E. Burton and Dr. H. A. Spoehr.

To Mrs. Phil K. Gordon belongs the credit for originating and carrying through the entire affair.

Practically every regular resident of Carmel has helped to make the Sir Cuse a success, and it is hoped that by tonight a large number of checks will have been added to the treasury of the Arts and Crafts Little Theater.

Humane Dance Yields Profit and Pleasure

The benefit dance and bridge party given Tuesday evening at Arts and Crafts hall for the Carmel Humane Society was a great social and financial success—netting about $135.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Joseph Hooper about fifty men from the Del Monte training camp joined the dancers and made it necessary to send for more girls as partners, so the civilians were made to work hard to get a dance ahead of the khaki and brass button men.

Mrs. C. H. Yates is most enthusiastic over the affair and she and other ladies of the committee in charge are greatly indebted to Newell's grocery, Basham's candy store and Rudolph's furniture store for generous help.

at prices far below those of the present day

Carmel-by-the-Sea has grown beyond all predictions of a few years ago.

And prices have kept step with that growth.

Carmel-by-the-Sea is growing faster today than ever before. If you could purchase property today in Carmel-by-the-Sea at prices of a few years ago, you would hesitate before overlooking that opportunity.

TODAY

you are offered the opportunity of buying Carmel property at "old prices." Suitable available land for subdivision in Carmel is about exhausted. The opportunity offered today may not occur again.

CARMEL WOODS

is the ninth addition to the constantly growing town of Carmel-by-the-Sea, the most celebrated center of art and letters on the Pacific Coast.

CARMEL WOODS is in the heart of the Monterey Peninsula, touching Carmel-by-the-Sea on one side and Pebble Beach on the other. Magnificent pines and oaks and luxuriant undergrowth make Carmel Woods a region of native loveliness, admirably adapted for the homes of those who love nature and find in the healthful climate, the romantic mission history and the cultured atmosphere of Carmel-by-the-Sea their ideal of a permanent dwelling place.

CARMEL WOODS is a residence subdivision, with reasonable restrictions recommended by the town trustees and town planning commission of Carmel-by-the-Sea. These restrictions are designed to assure every purchaser a congenial environment.

CARMEL WOODS is traversed by roads that wind through the pines and oaks, opening up vistas of irresistible charm, making the homesites accessible, and at the same time emphasizing the note of seclusion so dear to those who seek homes on the Monterey Peninsula. These roads are all forty feet wide and for twenty feet of their width they are surfaced and graveled.

Water in abundance and electricity have been brought to every homestead.

Individual lots can be purchased for as little as $350.00

Reasonable terms if desired.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The first semester of the 1923-24 school year of the Monterey Union High School begins on Monday, September 4.

There's a new boarder at the Ohm home. The young lady arrived by the stork route a day or two ago. Your treat, Rudy.

Jack Gribner, well known here, who used to be associated with Guy Bates Post on the stage, is here from San Jose, guest of the Hoopers.

Harry A. James and wife of Glendale were last week-end guests of Mrs. S. B. Hunkins. Miss Ruth Mitchell and Mrs. Lapham, other guests, have gone east.

The local humane society held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon. One of the objects toward which the organization is working is the preservation of the wild life of the state and especially of this section.

Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pasadena, will preach in Carmel Church at 11 o'clock tomorrow. In the evening Dr. Hillis, university pastor at Berkeley, will speak at 7:30.

Theater A. & C. Merger Discussed

Whether to merge or not to merge the Forest Theater organization with the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts was not determined at a joint meeting of the directors of both bodies last Monday evening.

For the time being at least those who are opposed to the amalgamation triumphed. It developed in the course of a spirited discussion that there is a decided difference of opinion as to the feasibility of consolidating the organizations.

Though the Forest Theater directors had by majority vote approved Perry Newberry's committee report to combine with the Arts and Crafts Club for a consideration of one dollar, the plan did not go through.

However, a proposal which seemed to meet with favor was that by which an entirely new organization would be formed to assume the functions and property of both bodies. Committees will be appointed to consider the matter, with Argyll Campbell as legal adviser.

Ocean View Market

Carmel's new food emporium on Wednesday opened its doors to the public. It is an attractive place, with modern ventilating and refrigerating systems, an ice-making plant and up-to-date sanitary provisions. Fresh and salt meats, fish, and fruits and vegetables are the stock in trade. C. E. Todd is the manager and Titus and Ollason the owners. Give them a call.

Personal Recollections President Harding

Our community is invited by the Arts and Crafts Club to attend a very timely and valuable lecture in Arts and Crafts Hall, next Monday evening, by Preston W. Search, on the subject "A Story of Marions" with Special Reminiscences of President Harding.

Professor Search was born in Marion, knew Warren G. Harding well, and has a large fund of personal recollections upon which to base this exceptional lecture.

The speaker, through a long and versatile experience in public and private life, has had rare opportunity to meet and know many eminent men, including a number of our Presidents. The lecture will abound in reminiscences well worth hearing, and of side-lights unpublished and little known.

With such a subject the lecture is appropriately free. The Arts and Crafts Club takes pleasure in the lecture's presentation, and cordially invites the entire community to attend.

There are many odd corners in your home that can be utilized by the application of wall board and converted into an extra sleeping room, a sewing room, a den or library.

Beauty and Utility in High School Structure

The people of Monterey Peninsula should be proud of their high school. With the additions practically completed, our high school, besides being one of the best equipped in the state, will be a thing of beauty. The Spanish style of architecture, with the tile roof, the location on the hill, overlooking the bay, and other features will make it one of the landmarks of the Peninsula.

The gymnasium is a fine structure, large enough to accommodate the crowds at the basketball games and allowing a regulation floor. It will also be the largest hall in Monterey for the presentation of entertainments, meetings, etc. There is a large stage, dressing rooms and other facilities lacking in the present assembly hall.

The science building contains four class rooms, including the chemistry laboratory and science lecture room. There is a large basement which will accommodate at least two more class rooms if there is need for additional accommodations.

Benefit Lecture for Carmel Library

The Carmel Library, in need of funds for various purposes, has succeeded in obtaining for the first lecture of a series Dr. Daniel T. MacDougal of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. The lecture will be given at the local laboratory and of the station at Tucson. This lecture will take place on Monday evening, August 27. The subject will be "Physical Aspects of Life."

PLANT TREE IN RIGHT PLACE

Much of Natural Beauty May Be Lost If Proper Spot Has Not Been Selected.

It is a beautiful thing to plant a tree, but it is doubly beautiful to plant the right tree in the right place.

The deed loses half of its beauty when a tree is placed where it does not belong, and where it will be impossible for it to add to the joy and comfort of those who may be near it in future years. A tree placed in a location where it will be in the way, and where it cannot develop in accordance with its natural tendencies, is doomed to be a failure. The same is likely to be true of the tree that is planted without thought as to the variety that is best suited to the situation. It is the tree planting that involves thought and judgment that is the real blessing to humanity.

The beautiful thing in the planting of the tree is the attitude of mind of the one who does it. Those who are to receive the benefits from the act appear long after the work is done; those who do the work are seldom directly rewarded for the labor. When a person plants a tree, he is contributing to the pleasure of generations to come, and if he plants the right tree in the right place he bestows a blessing upon others in the most unselfish manner. If, on the other hand, the wrong tree is planted, the future generations cannot reap the full benefit of the work done years before by the well-meaning but uninformed tree planter, and the deed as measured by results becomes less beautiful. Illinois Arbor Day Bulletin.

Fighting Forest Fires.

The California district of the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture, has received $4,000 from the Automobile Club of Southern California for the development of public camps in national forests. In addition, the automobile club co-operates very closely with the forest service in fire-prevention work. Approved methods of preventing fires are printed in the maps furnished by the club to tourists.

Carmel to Have Fine Motor Service Station

An up-to-the-minute oil, gasoline and general service station for this city. It is likely that this new public convenience will be in operation within thirty days.

One short block from Ocean avenue, or, to be more precise, at the north east corner of San Carlos highway and Sixth avenue, on lots 14, 16, 18 and 20, Block 57, Messrs. Thomas B. Beardon and Fred Leidig will build and equip the station.

The building is to conform to the mission type of architecture, and attractive grounds will surround it. Leveling, grading and excavating are now under way. The station will be one of the most attractive in the state.

Several parties are under consideration, to one of whom will be awarded the lease for a term of years.

R. Austin James has gone to San Francisco, where on Monday he will enter upon a course of sculpture and drawing in the California School of Fine Arts.

There will be a dance at Arts and Crafts hall on Thursday evening, August 23, the funds realized going to the Carmel Library.

Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith of Oakland, accompanied Mrs. C. S. Stanton from San Francisco last Sunday and was Mrs. Stanton's house guest for the week at her Dolores street cottage.

He Knew Her.

A woman went to the doctor and told him that her husband was suffering from buzzing in the ears, and asked him what she should do for it. He replied, "Take him to the seaside." She said, "He won't go." So the doctor said, "Go yourself; that will do as well."

Reading Circle

The first reading of Dickens' "Edwin Drood," will take place next Monday, 8 o'clock, at Grey Gables. Last Monday the miscellaneous program, "Personal Glimpses of Other Lands," proved an enjoyable one. Alaska, China, Japan, Ceylon, India, provided interesting matter, and the singing of old-time songs by Mrs. Crocker, Mrs. Bacon, Mrs. Silva and the audience brought the affair to a close.

WHY WRITE ONLY FOR A SELECT CIRCLE?

The deluge of poems and near-poems anent the life and work and death of President Harding prompts the observation that "John Greenleaf Whittier and James Russell Lowell wrote noble 'occasional pieces,' as this species of composition used to be called, meaning that they were pieces inspired by some special occasion instead of by a quiet visit of the poet's own muse. But Oliver Wendell Holmes was the past master of this sort of thing in American letters. Yet his best known pieces are the ones which were not inspired by any special occasion, but which, like 'The Chambered Nautilus' and 'The Last Leaf on the Tree,' had nothing to do with special occasions, however dramatic or tragic.

"There is a profound inward obstinacy in many modern poets which accounts for their inability to sing the great national griefs and joys. In the days of Homer and the earlier poets of all nations, the poet felt practically the same emotions as the rest of his countrymen, and simply possessed the ability to express them in more beautiful and effective form. But to your modern poet, like your modern artist of any sort, tends to live a life apart. He tends to be scornful, indifferent, afflicted with an 'inferiority complex'—anything, in short, except to be imbued with the wholehearted desire to voice the feelings of all of his countrymen."

A MASTER PRINTER

It is planned to have cast in gold the last type which Warren G. Harding, master printer, set with his own hands in a little newspaper office in Alaska. However much buncombe has been perpetrated on the subject, the fact remains that the type is a masterpiece of American art. It is planned to have cast in gold the last type which Warren G. Harding, master printer, set with his own hands in a little newspaper office in Alaska. However much buncombe has been perpetrated on the subject, the fact remains that the type is a masterpiece of American art.

Mr. Harding was a printer in youth, became a newspaper owner and member of Congress, and died President of the United States, and practically a millionaire. This is just about the average American's ideal of a successful life. It isn't such a bad idea at that. It is at least as good as the ideals of sword clanking junkerdom or British aristocracy.—San Jose News.

Pursuant to statute and to resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, State of California, directing this notice, to wit, Resolution No. 179 of said Board, duly passed and adopted on the 7th day of August, 1923.
